Psalm 73:1-2

Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart. But as for me,
my feet were almost gone;
my steps had well nigh
slipped.

In February, we will be starting a new series on the Psalms, especially the Psalms of David, who is called the “Sweet Psalmist of Israel” (2 Samuel 23:1). Psalm 73 (above) was authored by Asaph. It is the first of eleven consecutive Psalms bearing his name. It is a Psalm for anyone going through a difficult time and questioning their faith, as Asaph did! It is a Psalm that can help us reflect on or prepare for such a testing time.

During our series on the Psalms, there is one exegesis principle we will keep emphasising. What we have in the Psalms is, theology (doctrine about God) meeting actual life experience, and thus forging faith. Psalm 73 is a vivid example. I urge you to read it and how it concludes.
